TOWNS ALONG YANGTZE FALL BEFORE REDS

Foreign Military Observers Declare General Troop Withdrawal May Have Been Ordered

DESERTIONS FEARED

Nanking, April 22.—(AP)—South Yangtze valley ports, cities and towns fell like clay pigeons today before a mounting Red onslaught. So weak was government opposition that wholesale desertions to the Communists were feared. Foreign military observers said a general troop withdrawal may have been ordered.

Nanking was fast emptying of officialdom. High Level Chinese, wearing white helmets for the tropics and many swinging tennis rackets, bolted for departing planes.

Acting President Li Tsung-Jen, Premier Ho Ying-Chin and Gen. Pai Chung-Hsi, commander of the central front, flew to Hangchow for an important meeting with retired President Chiang Kai-Shek. Chiang may be asked to take over the government again.

Most important cities below the Yangtze in Red hands were Kiangyin, 85 miles east of here, Kweichih, 130 miles southwest, and dozens of lesser places between Wuhu, 60 miles southwest of here and Ankang, 150 miles southwest.

From Kweichih the Communists could march straight to the sea at Hangchow, less than 200 miles away. Such a move would isolate Shanghai and Nanking to the north.

There was no way of estimating the Communist strength across the river. The Red radio said 300,000 troops had crossed the river in small wooden boats between Wuhu and Ankang alone. This figure probably was exaggerated.

Fires from Communist shells burned in Pukow, across the river from Nanking. The capital's populace was not overly excited. Most people had become resigned to the Reds' taking the capital. The foreign office urged foreign embassies to follow it to Shanghai or Canton. U. S. Ambassador G. L. Leighton Stuart had made no plans to leave Nanking.

With Communists to the east threatening to cut off all roads to Shanghai, the U. S. Embassy warned Americans to get out now. (The State Department in Washington reported approximately 200 Americans were attached to the embassy. Eighty-seven more U. S. citizens still were in the capital).

Foreign military quarters said the Communists in a surprise river crossing had captured the government's naval base of Kiangyin. The base is about midway between Nanking and Shanghai.

From Kiangyin it is easy to cut the roads to Shanghai. But an even greater threat was boiling up about 80 miles to the southwest. There the Communists had shovaled at least 15,000 veteran troops across to the south bank under heavy artillery fire.

BILL TO PROVIDE A SMOKE CONTROL STUDY

Harrisburg, April 22.—(AP)—Initial action was given by the senate today to a bill to provide for a $50,000 study of the best methods of controlling smoke and soot in Pennsylvania.

Approved by the senate appropriations committee, the bill would empower the legislature's Joint State Government Commission to develop model plans for use of municipalities in solving the smoke problem.

Sen. Joseph J. Yosko (D.-Northampton) sponsored the measure.

Cancer Tag Sale In Borough This Evening and Saturday

The American Cancer Society's nationwide drive for a minimum of $500,000 starts today in Warren county, the amount needed to continue the program against the nation's number 2 killer.

In Warren county, Richard Meacham, chairman of the local campaign committee, announced that $5,444 would be asked of people in this community as their part in the fight to conquer this dread disease.

It is hoped that a large amount of this goal will be raised today and tomorrow through the sale of Cancer tags on the streets of Warren. Fifty high school and junior high school girls will be on the business streets until nine p. m. today and until six p. m. Saturday selling the tags.

These girls will also be competing for cash prizes offered for the salesman who turns in the largest donations. Ten dollars is the first prize and there are three others of five, three, and two dollars. Cancer tag day headquarters have been set up at the West Penn

Flying Congressman Coffey Met Death Here

Rep. Robert L. Coffey, Jr. (D. of Pa.) was killed instantly in the crash of his jet fighter plane during take-off from Albuquerque, N. M. This was the wreckage of the P-30 Shooting Star in which the 30-year-old congressman and former Air Force lieutenant colonel met death as he was flying cross-country during Reserve training.

Bill Exempting Resources In Local Tax Law Up In House

Harrisburg, April 22.—(AP)—Legislation exempting coal and other natural resources from taxes under the 1947 local tax law reached the house today. But the issue split Democratic ranks in the senate wide open.

It was approved by the senate 31-8 with the seven Democrats who voted for it providing the margin of victory for the controversial measure. Sens. M. Harvey Taylor (R.-Dauphin) and Theodore Dosolia (R.-Allegheny) and six Democrats voted against it.

"It will mean new taxes on the people," Sen. Samuel Neff (D.-Beaver) told the senate in bitterly opposing the measure which bore the name of Sen. John H. Dent, the Democratic floor leader.

Dent immediately retorted it was "an unjust accusation" and said his long labor record in the legislature was sufficient answer.

It was pushed by the Republican leadership as a possible substitute for another measure which would also exempt from wage taxes non-residents of all of Pennsylvania's municipalities except Philadelphia and impose ceilings on wages, sales, amusement, per capita and mercantile levies.

Also approved finally was a measure to exclude merchandise taken in trade-ins from taxation under local retail mercantile taxes.

A new crop of controversial issues were assigned to committee pigeon-holes either through committee votes or by floor action. Topping the list were:

Measures to establish a state fair employment practices commission to bar job discrimination due to race, creed or color.

A proposal to require the public utility commission to fix utility rates on the basis of a fair value determined by the actual cost of the property of public utilities.

Legislation to revamp and strengthen the 1945 restaurant liquor licenses after health inspections by state or local authorities.

Three men and a young woman were captured in Nashville, Tenn., yesterday on warrants charging them in connection with the Folansbee and two other bank robberies in Baltimore.

Those four and a man and two women under arrest in Baltimore took overlapping parts in the three holdups, according to D. S. Hostetter, Memphis FBI agent.

Kittie, benign held in Washington, Pa., for West Virginia authorities, has been identified by the two Weirton officers—Al Roessel and James Herman—as one of their abductors.

Pennsylvania police said a gun found in Kittie's possession has been identified "definitely and positively" as belonging to one of the abducted policemen.

Nashville, Tenn., April 22.—(AP)—The FBI was piecing together today the stories of three men and a young woman arrested and taken to the state penitentiary.

The president announced the appointment of David K. E. Bruce to be ambassador to France, replacing Jefferson Caffery, who is coming home to an undersigned job.

It was the second diplomatic shift in as many days. Previously Adm. Alan G. Kirk was chosen to succeed Lt. Gen. Walter Bedell Smith as ambassador to Moscow.

Mr. Truman offered no comment when asked who would take Bruce's spot as the European Recovery Mission chief in France. Shortly after news of Bruce's new job was released, however, the Economic Cooperation Administration announced that it would be succeeded by Barry Bingham, Louisville publisher-editor.

WOMAN INJURED
Mrs. Emma Hubbard, of Sugar Grove, was treated by a physician on Thursday after she had received several cuts about the head and face in a peculiar accident at her home. Her son, William Hindsdale, had his team in a field near the house and was working on a fence when the team ran away. Mrs. Hubbard, who saw them coming and tried to get out of the way, is not sure if she was struck by the team or received the cuts and bruises about her face and body when she fell.

Catholic Catechism Bans Mass by Video

Washington, April 22.—(AP)—The first major revision of a Roman Catholic catechism in the U. S., in over 60 years tells Catholics, in effect, they cannot "attend" Sunday mass by television.

The new 426-page religious textbook, climax of 12 years' research by prelates and Catholic scholars known as the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine, does not specifically mention television.

But it says a person must be "bodily present" at the place where mass is celebrated in order to fulfill his obligations to the church. The Confraternity in a separate press release linked this admonition to the question of television masses.

House opposition in the past was directed against the public housing feature. Some influential house members still are contending that it would lead to socialization of the building industry.

That argument was raised during the five days of senate debate on the bill, too, but it was overriden.

On final passage, 33 Democrats joined 24 Republicans in voting for the bill. Against it were two Democrats and 11 Republicans.

Sponsors of the bill—11 Democrats and an equal number of Republicans—were able to bring about the defeat of practically all major moves to amend it.

The major provisions of the housing bill are these:

1. The federal government would contribute up to $308,000,000 annually for up to 40 years to help finance 810,000 public housing units which would be built in the next six years.

2. A five-year slum clearance program, with two-thirds of the cost to be met by the federal government and the balance by local communities. The bill authorizes $1,600,000,000 in federal loans and $5,000,000 in grants.

3. A three-part $275,000,000 farm housing program: 33-year loans at not more than four per cent interest, to be available to owners of self-sustaining farms who are otherwise unable to finance adequate housing; a similar loan program, along with annual federal contributions for up to 10 years to owners whose farms were not at the time self-sustaining but could be made so; loans and grants would be available for mortgage improvement and repair of dwellings on farms which could not be made self-sustaining.

SENATE OKAYS LONG RANGE HOUSING BILL

Measure Authorizing Vast Slum Clearance and Public Building in Lower Body

FATE IS UNCERTAIN

Washington, April 22.—(AP)—The long range housing bill landed in the house today after senate approval at a stormy session.

The bill authorizing a vast slum clearance program and construction of 810,000 public housing units during the next six years was passed by the senate a few minutes before last midnight. The vote was 57 to 13.

The measure also provides for a $275,000,000 farm housing program and for a research program designed to spur home construction by cutting building costs.

The fate of the bill in the house is uncertain. Somewhat similar bills passed by the senate last year and in 1946 died in the other branch of congress.

House opposition in the past was directed against the public housing feature. Some influential house members still are contending that it would lead to socialization of the building industry.

That argument was raised during the five days of senate debate on the bill, too, but it was overriden.

On final passage, 33 Democrats joined 24 Republicans in voting for the bill. Against it were two Democrats and 11 Republicans.

Sponsors of the bill—11 Democrats and an equal number of Republicans—were able to bring about the defeat of practically all major moves to amend it.

'Parkdown' Staged By Truck Drivers

Irwin, April 22.—(AP)—A truckers' "parkdown" apparently ended on the Pennsylvania turnpike today but big vehicles were immobilized near New Castle, in protest against the state's weight load laws.

Truckers want present weight limits of 45,000 tons raised. Lieut. A. M. Cralzke, commander of the Pennsylvania State Police turnpike detail at Bedford, Pa., said the situation appeared normal on the high-speed artery today.

An estimated 220 big trucks were parked along the turnpike last night from the western entrance at Irwin to Bedford, about 70 miles east. Drivers said they were protesting the state legislature's failure to pass a bill increasing allowable load limits.

New Castle, near the Ohio-Pennsylvania line, a trailer camp attendant said between 25 and 30 big trucks had been parked at the camp since midnight Thursday. Some trucks bore placards saying: "Truckers Pennsylvania Holiday."

The trailer camp is along routes 224 and 422, leading eastward from Ohio.

AVERY KEEPS GRIP ON WARD COMPANY POST

Chicago, April 22.—(AP)—Sewell Avery kept his iron grip on Montgomery Ward and Company today. Avery was assured of re-election as a director of the retail merchandising firm when nominations closed without anyone being put up in opposition to him. Actual counting of votes will take an hour or more.

Directors were scheduled to meet to elect a chairman later today. There was no doubt it would again be Avery. He is the only director who is active in the day-to-day management of the company. Avery is chief executive officer of

Living Costs Edge Up in Federal Report

Washington, April 22.—(AP)—The government reported today that living costs edged up a bit in March, snapping a six-month decline.

The Labor Department's consumer's price index for mid-March rose half a point over mid-February. It was 169.5 per cent of the average for the 1935-39 pre-war period.

The rise was attributed chiefly to an advance in food prices. Retail food prices went up one per cent in March over February to end a steady drop since last July. Most important factors were above seasonal advances for beef, fresh pork and lamb.

Prices of fruits and vegetables, as well as rents, also contributed to the rise in the index. The index is based on a survey of prices in 56 cities.

Clues Lacking In Slaying Of Opera Singer

Atlanta, April 22.—(AP)—Police were trying to learn today "what happened where, when, and why" in the strange slaying of opera singer John Garis.

"We're doing everything possible," said Chief of Detectives E. I. Hilderbrand, "but we have learned very little."

What looked like promising clues were fading out, 24 hours after the body of the 35-year-old Metropolitan opera tenor was found in a dreary alley. A bullet wound was through the heart.

Hilderbrand said these angles on which detectives were working: "Some" members of the Metropolitan Opera group were questioned in Memphis last night, where the performance went as scheduled. Homicide Lieut. M. M. Copenhaver still was in Memphis, and names were not available.

Hilderbrand said a radiogram to New York City police had determined that Garis was living at 322 West 47th street with "J. Unfelder, said to be a tutor." Unfelder was believed on his way to Atlanta. Garis' body lay unclaimed in the morgue today.

The detective chief said officers would like to question "a close male friend" of Garis. Hilderbrand declined to go into details, although he said Copenhaver may bring additional information along this line when he returns.

Hilderbrand said he had been (Turn to Page Eight)

Boro School Pupils Present Entertaining Music Festival

A musical future of which they may be justifiably proud is indicated for Warren public schools if last night's music festival at Beatty Junior High School may be taken as a basis for prediction.

An audience of parents and friends which occupied practically every seat in the big gym sat through the lengthy program presented by several hundred grade and junior high pupils and gave no apparent evidence of impatience or acknowledgment of the uncomfortable bleacher seating arrangement.

The strict attention and lengthy applause given each group of students was a fine tribute to the efforts of both pupils and their teachers.

Opening the program, Harry Summers presented the guest group, the Sixth Grade Chorus representing all schools of the borough, and their director, Howard Andersen. Also a guest was the evening's soloist, Charles Eaton, sixth grader from Johnson building who was accompanied by his sister, Margaret, a Beatty pupil, in two beautiful plays, "The Song of the Lark" and "The Virtuoso" by Walter Beeler and the familiar "O Sole Mio."

Mr. Andersen, in his acknowledgment, paid tribute to the work of teachers in the individual buildings and asked that sixth grade teachers stand and take a bow.

Another group presented by Mr. Andersen was the Seventh Grade Chorus, with Anne Israel as accompanist.

Both of these younger groups displayed a surprising knowledge of part-singing and good ensemble work, and the final result was evidence of the director's abilities in handling these youngest members of the school singing groups.

Next on the program was the Beatty Girls' Freshman Ensemble, directed and accompanied by Carroll Fowler, and containing some fine future material for the high school a cappella group.

A touch of color in both the selections played and the party goings worn by the girls came in the grouping of four selections played by the Beatty Junior High School Orchestra under Mr. Summers' baton. Specialty number was the Fiddlers' Contest number played by the string section.

Mr. Fowler returned to present his Beatty Eighth and Ninth Grade Chorus in three numbers, the Beatty Boys' Chorus in a spirited work song and the full Beatty Chorus in three lively selections.

Concluding the program, the (Turn to Page Eight)

PLAN PROVIDES FOR PAYMENT OF MEDICAL BILLS FROM FUND SECURED BY SPECIAL TAXES

Washington, April 22.—(AP)—President Truman asked congress again today to vote compulsory insurance as part of a national health program.

In a special message to the legislators, Mr. Truman said the traditional method of paying for medical care "cannot meet the health needs of today."

He recommended that congress provide for a system of government payment of medical bills from a fund to be collected by special taxes.

Mr. Truman also asked:

1. Government financial aid for the expansion of medical schools
2. Federal aid for "construction of hospitals and other medical facilities in communities where they are needed."
3. Increased federal grants to help state and local governments in "controlling certain diseases" and promoting "maternal and child health services, services for crippled children and general public health activities."

Mr. Truman sent a 3,000-word message to Capitol Hill. His proposals, because of past advocacy, had been anticipated and lines already were forming for a battle over the recommendations.

Some administration backers say they see practically no chance that the program will be enacted in this session of congress.

The American Medical Association has already begun a campaign against it. Labor organizations have accused the AMA of setting up a $2,500,000 fund to fight the program.

The AMA fight is centered on the proposal for compulsory health insurance. Some of its leaders say that would mean "socialized medicine" but some other medical men are backing it.

In his message the president said that voluntary insurance plans "have proved inadequate to the need," most of them offering "only very limited protection."

He went on to reply to some of the attacks which have been made on his proposals, offering first in 1945 by saying:

"Health insurance is a method of paying for medical care. It will not disturb the freedom of doctors and hospitals to determine the nature and extent of treatment to be given. It will not interfere with the personal relationship between doctor and patient."

"Under such a plan, patients will remain free to choose their own doctors, and doctors will remain free to accept or reject patients. Moreover, patients, doctors and hospitals will remain free to make their own arrangements for care outside the government insurance."

Sitdown Strike Of Miners is Ended

Lansford, April 22.—(AP)—Ten grimy, weary miners ended this morning their three-day underground sitdown strike that swelled to a walkout of 6,000 hard coal diggers.

The men emerged at 8:30 a. m. from No. 6 colliery of Lehigh Navigation Coal Company. They had been underground since reporting for work at the pit at 7 a. m. last Tuesday.

All ten, who had been made as comfortable as possible by fellow members of the United Mine Workers, headed first for the wash house at the mine for a welcome scrubbing. Then, they said, they planned to go to their homes.

The protest demonstration which they began Tuesday evening swelled to a general walkout in the Panther Valley yesterday. All of the company's operations in this rich hard coal region were idle today for the second day.

Green Pennant Safety Drive For County Given Approval

Plans to inaugurate the green pennant safety program in Warren county schools next fall were approved at meeting of the Warren County Council of the Governor's Highway Safety Advisory Committee in the Warren Municipal building last night.

The program will likely be instituted on an individual school basis, and later coordinated into a 100 per cent county-wide program under the supervision of County School Superintendent H. L. Blair, who also is vice chairman of the safety council in charge of education, Pennsylvania State police and local enforcement officers.

The green pennant program has met with widespread success in the Pittsburgh district, where more than 1,000 schools are cooperating. The program calls for the awarding of the pennant, on a month-to-month basis to schools in which none of the pupils has been involved in any kind of a "moving vehicle" accident. This includes bikes, roller skates and sleds as well as go-carts and cars.

Civic leaders in each community participate in the ceremonies in which the pennants are awarded, or in delivering "heart-to-heart" safety talks when a school loses its green pennant for a month-long period because one or more of the pupils was involved in an accident.

The pennant program was outlined to representatives of county and Warren borough schools by Capt. Joseph McCann of the Pennsylvania State Police, who is chairman of the Governor's Highway Safety Advisory Committee for western Pennsylvania.

Capt. McCann, who is stationed at the State Police Squadron One headquarters in Greensburg, was introduced by Sgt. James Veigin, commanding officer of the State Police substation here.

"A LETTER TO THREE WIVES"
AT THE LIBRARY THEATRE
SUNDAY-MONDAY-TUESDAY

With a mature, adult story that is sure to appeal to every type and age of movie-goer, with laughter and drama blended in with just the right proportions and an emotional impact seldom equalled on the screen, "A Letter to Three Wives," is wonderful entertainment.

This Twentieth Century-Fox comedy-drama has a star-studded cast that includes Jeanne Crain, Linda Darnell and Ann Sothern as the "wives," paired with Jeffrey Lynn, Paul Douglas and Kirk Douglas, respectively. The immediate action of the hilarious story takes place in a single day when the three girls leave on a picnic excursion with the unsettling news that "Addie," their suburban town's most attractive unattached female, has left town with one of their husbands.

"Addie," incidentally, is an intriguing Rebecca-like figure who is never seen, or even identified, but her taunting voice rings in the ears of each wife as she searches her marriage, convinced that it is her husband that the predatory female has taken.

Told in an intricate, yet completely credible series of flashbacks, "A Letter to Three Wives" is a cinematic triumph. The dialogue is brilliant, the direction by writer-director Joseph L. Mankiewicz a thing of rare perfection.

Paul Douglas, in his first screen role as the hard-talking store executive, definitely establishes himself as a top-flight star, while Linda Darnell has never showed to better advantage. Jeanne Crain emerges as a talented mature actress and Ann Sothern is superb as her school-teacher husband, Kirk Douglas. Jeffrey Lynn scores as Miss Crain's better half.

SPECIAL ASSEMBLY

A special assembly was held at Beatty Junior High School this morning so that members of the student body might enjoy the all-Beatty musical program which was presented to the public in the school gym last evening. Students had been asked by Principal H. D. Harris to remain at home last evening in order that the anticipated capacity house of adults might be handled and were promised a repeat of the program in return for their cooperation.

METERS COLLECTED

City parking meters yielded $397.00 in the weekly tapping by police yesterday, a bit below the average of the past few weeks.

I have seen a perfect Motion Picture!

Every so often—a motion picture is produced, that becomes a milestone in entertainment. Such a picture is the new hit—"A LETTER TO THREE WIVES."

Critics and theatre audiences everywhere have selected "A LETTER TO THREE WIVES" as the "Best-so-far this-year!"

I've been in Warren for thirty-five years—I feel that I know a GOOD PICTURE when I see one. Consequently, I would never recommend a picture unless I was positive you would enjoy that picture.

I'm that positive you will enjoy—"A LETTER TO THREE WIVES!"

It's a picture that's warm, humorous and, well—it's HUMAN!

Yours for enjoyable entertainment,

THE CHINESE SITUATION

We shall know soon how much striking-power the Chinese Communist armies possess for their task of crossing the mighty Yangtze river—last formidable barrier between Red China and the Nationalist south—would be Napoleonic if they encountered strong resistance, says DeWitt MacKenzie, Associated Press foreign affairs analyst in his daily column.

Perhaps we should do better to put the operation in terms of Nationalist weakness. For it is great, relatively speaking.

Already the Communist chief, Mao Tze-Tung, has flung troops across the river at strategic points, spurring them on with the cry: "Liberate all China."

This resumption of fighting, grim as it is, will clarify the situation faster than would long-drawn-out talk. The Nationalists now know that appeasement won't work with the Communists.

Peace could be achieved solely on Red terms. The only way to reach a clear-cut decision is to fight it out.

If the Nationalists carry out the plans which they have been contemplating, we are witnessing the beginning of another stretch of bloodshed and destruction. It is small comfort to note the historical fact that this will be only a further phase of the civil strife that has been going on intermittently ever since the revolution of 1911, which resulted in the overthrow of the throne and the establishment of the Republic.

Informed sources say that under the guidance of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek the Nationalists have been preparing to inaugurate guerrilla warfare to meet the Red invasion of Central and South China. The Generalissimo's "retirement" has been more fiction than fact. It was a maneuver which at once established a "peace front" in the capital to negotiate with the Reds, and gave Chiang a chance to organize China south of the Yangtze for defense if peace talks failed.

The Nationalists are said to have divided their whole territory into zones of resistance. This contemplates that opposition to the Red invasion from the north will be made by stages.

Presumably the Generalissimo and his followers shortly will undertake the job of defense—if this project of guerrilla warfare materializes. The alternative would seem to be abject surrender to the Communists, who then would take over all China.

And what if the defense fails? Well, as the signs read, the Generalissimo then will hop over to the great island of Formosa, just off the Chinese coast, and there establish a new government.

Continuance of the federal tax of fifteen per cent on transportation, imposed solely as a war measure the country was told at the time, is being protested by the New York State Travel Bureau. Now, nearly four years after the Japanese surrender, the emergency has passed, all types of transportation carriers are able to handle all the traffic offered, and the tax is a hindrance to travel and recreation. However, taxes once levied are hard to get rid of.

A "Fight Cancer" campaign has been launched in Warren county. Funds are sought to help battle this scourge of civilization that today is one of the leading killers. This fight has to be financed by private funds as the only agency that is now in the campaign to bring this disease under control. A dollar to fight cancer is a dollar mighty well spent. Support the tag day being staged for this project today and Saturday.

General Huebner has not invited Russian military observers to our Army's spring maneuvers against a "mythical aggressor" in Germany, because the Russians never invite us to their maneuvers. We devoutly hope that this is a portent of things to come. May all aggressors remain mythical, and may American and Russian officers never again observe each other's forces on the field of action!

In case you are still in doubt, clocks in Warren and surrounding communities will be set ahead one hour this weekend. Following a long-established custom in most homes clocks will be changed Saturday night before retiring, so that families will be on Daylight Savings Time when they arise Sunday.

According to a London doctor, honey is soothing and healing. The man who has whispered it to the good wife can understand that.

Lilac is said to be the universally favorite scent. Haven't they ever smelled ham and eggs cooking?

A job shortage always changes some lazy loafers into unfortunate victims.

Here And There

Here's another reminder to be sure and set timepieces ahead one hour some time Saturday night so that you'll be on Daylight Saving Time for your Sunday morning schedule, particularly as it pertains to attendance at church and Sunday school. Regarding Daylight Saving the World Encyclopedia has the following to say: "Daylight Saving, a movement that has met with wide approval, designed to secure more daylight for business and recreation and to lessen correspondingly the need of artificial light. It applies only to the warmer months of the year, and is secured by moving the clocks and watches a certain distance ahead (usually an hour) at the beginning of the contemplated period and moving them back at its end. By this fiction advantage is taken of an additional early hour of daylight that would otherwise (by city dwellers at least) be spent in sleep, and as one retires an hour earlier at night the need of artificial light for that hour is obviated. The idea was first brought to public attention in 1907, when an Englishman, William Willett, published a brochure entitled 'The Waste of Daylight.'"

His proposal was that the hour between two and three on each of the four Sundays in April should be made forty minutes long and last the same hour on each of four Sundays in September should be eighty minutes long, thus bringing the day back in conformity with sun time. His period of daylight saving for the period indicated was therefore an hour and twenty minutes. For legal and parliamentary purposes, as well as for astronomical and navigation uses, Greenwich time was to govern. The publication of his book was the signal for a prolonged and violent controversy. It was generally opposed by farmers and scientists and by some who thought the proposition was illogical. To others it made a strong appeal, and a bill was introduced in the House of Commons favoring it, which, however, failed of passage. What argument could not effect was however brought about by the World War. At a period when every nation involved in the struggle was husbanding its resources, the desirability of saving the many millions that would otherwise be expended for artificial light was obvious. Then too the food resources could be increased by the additional time gained for vegetable gardening in the early evening. Great Britain adopted the essential features of the plan in 1916 and her lead was almost immediately followed by all the warring nations and many of the neutrals. The United States passed a daylight saving law in 1918. Although after the war necessity had passed this was repealed, the plan is still in practice in many parts of the country. Sometimes it is a matter of state enactment. In other cases certain municipalities adopt it while perhaps a neighboring one rejects it. This brings about occasional confusion and annoyance, but as a rule the communities concerned quickly adapt themselves to prevailing conditions."

WASHINGTON COLUMN

Composition of ICC Explains Many Faults of U. S. Railroads

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—If you are interested in what's the matter with the railroads of this country, one answer may be found by studying the make-up of the 11-man Interstate Commerce Commission. It is generally admitted that four or five of the commissioners do all the work. One of the commissioners is blind. Two are 74 years old and one, just reappointed for a new six-year term, is 71. Only one commissioner is under 60—Hugh W. Cross of Illinois, 53, who admits he knows practically nothing about the railroads. Of the 11 commissioners, only five had any railroad or public utilities experience before they were appointed to ICC. Two came up through the ranks as ICC career men. One had railway labor background and one was recommended by the ICC practicing—the association of lawyers who plead cases before the Commission. Three knew nothing about the railroads when first named to ICC. It is so far behind on its docket that several years would be required to clean it up, even if no new cases were filed. It takes months and sometimes years to handle a major case.

WHAT has happened here is that the ICC, like so many other government agencies, has become bogged down in its own red tape. It is more or less neglected. The railroad trade press follows intricate rulings with professional self-interest. But no other government agency and neither the White House nor the Congress has the slightest idea of what goes on there, or why.

By way of re-introduction, this is the way the commissioners line up. The first five do most of the work: Chairman Charles D. Mahaffie, 65, Kansas Republican. He is a Rhodes Scholar and Princeton professor of jurisprudence. He served as attorney for the old U.S.R.R. Commission, then went to ICC's Bureau of Finance, from which he was named commissioner by Hoover. J. Haden Aldredge, 62, Alabama Democrat. He made a study of freight rates for TVA which won him appointment to ICC. William E. Lee, 67, Idaho Republican. He was an attorney for Northern-Pacific before being elected to the Idaho Supreme Court. Richard F. Mitchell, 68, Iowa Democrat. Former Iowa Supreme Court Chief Justice and Democratic National Committeeman. He was referee in a 1947 adjustment board case, which he handled so well that he was recommended for ICC appointment by its practitioners.

J. MONROE JOHNSON, 71, South Carolina Democrat. He was colonel of an engineer regiment in the Spanish-American War and in the Rainbow division of World War I. He succeeded the late Joe Eastman as Office of Defense Transportation Director, and that work has taken up most of his time. Clyde B. Aitchison, 74, Oregon Republican. He drafted Oregon's railroad law and was general counsel for the old R. R. Evaluation Commission. Known as "Father Time" he is supposed to be quite a singer and leads the ICC male chorus. Carroll Miller, also 74, Virginia-born Pennsylvania Democrat, was a gas company official and consulting engineer.

Walter M. W. Spawm, 66, Texas Democrat. He has been a university professor, dean and president. He also served on the Texas Railroad Commission. He is now blind. John L. Rogers, 60, Tennessee Republican. He was a railroad shopman, then an ICC locomotive inspector. He studied law on the side and became Director of ICC's Bureau of Motor Carriers.

William J. Patterson, 69, North Dakota Independent. He took a correspondence course in air brakes and became an ICC safety inspector. He rose to become Director of ICC's Safety division. Hugh W. Cross, 53, Illinois Republican farmer, lawyer and politician, just appointed to succeed the late Commissioner George M. Barnard, Indiana Republican, for a term ending Dec. 31, 1950.

RUTH MILLETT

How Can One Help a 'Misfit' Daughter? By Understanding

"MY daughter is an unhappy 'misfit' at the public high school she attends because she was not asked to join one of the all-powerful sororities—and is automatically left out of much of the social life of her classmates. "What can her father and I do to help make her high school years a little happier for her? Don't tell us to send her to a private school, because we just can't afford it." You have a problem on your hands, all right, and the maddening thing about it is that the situation that has created the problem shouldn't exist. Fraternities and sororities should be outlawed in public schools. They are in many cities—but unfortunately they still flourish in many others, encouraging snobbery in teenagers, causing heart-break to the boys and girls who are outsiders, and giving parents of the outsiders one more teen-age problem to try to help their sons and daughters solve. But back to your immediate problem. How can you best help your daughter to be happy in spite of that feeling of being left out? First of all, don't try to pretend the problem doesn't exist to save her face. If you don't discuss it with her, she'll only brood about it alone, and perhaps get the mistaken notion that you don't understand. SHE CAN GET ALONG ON "OUTSIDE"

IN talking about the situation, try to make her see that organized snobbery is just a crutch those who are "in" lean on. Try to show her how she can get along without that crutch. Encourage her to go out for school activities, and to develop all the skills she can. See that she learns to dance, if she is not already a good dancer. Encourage her to learn to swim and play tennis, to try out for the school plays, the newspaper, or the debating team. And if you possibly can, see that her clothes are right—so that she needn't feel ashamed of the way she looks. Many a high school girl manages to have a nice wardrobe by making her clothes herself. If you can finally bring your daughter to see that the important thing in life isn't to belong to the "right crowd"—but to be able to stand alone—you will have helped her not only through this situation, but you will have given her a truth that will help her throughout her life. Help her to see that many of those girls who are dependent on belonging to the right sorority to take them through high school happily, will be just as dependent at 40 on being accepted by the "right people" if they are to be happy.

Refinery At Oil City Will Close 30 Days

Oil City Derrick: The Independent Refining plant of Oil City will halt production for one month, beginning Saturday because of the falling off in demand for Pennsylvania grade crude oil products.

Only one-third of the plant's 90-odd hourly employees will be retained during the shutdown, it was revealed by Guy Hunter of Emulsion, vice president in charge of manufacturing for the Quaker State Oil Refining Corp.

The skeleton force, which will be picked from the plant's oldest employees in point of service, will be used for maintenance work at the Seneca street plant and also to ship out oil stocks on hand.

This will mark Independent's first prolonged shutdown in many years and, according to Mr. Hunter, will give the plant an opportunity to make some necessary repairs.

Mr. Hunter described the storage situation as "uncomfortable" and he said it is hoped the four-week cessation in production will help to "balance the supply and demand" of Pennsylvania grade crude oil.

Present plans call for the Independent plant to be shut down completely at 7 a. m. Saturday. However, Tom Parks, plant superintendent, said the exact time of the shut down has not been definitely ascertained, but that it likely will be Saturday morning.

The Independent plant is expected to swing back into operation about May 22 or 23.

Meanwhile, the current situation confronting the Pennsylvania oil industry remains, in the words of one oil man, "critical." Despite six Pennsylvania crude since last December, stocks of crude are still being increased because of the falling demand in Pennsylvania crude's refined products.

One oil man in close touch with the Pennsylvania grade crude situation stated this week that a recent survey showed that there is available in the Pennsylvania grade crude region empty tankage for 800,000 barrels.

A South Penn Oil Co. spokesman revealed this week that the Bradford firm added 74,000 barrels of Pennsylvania grade crude to stock last month and if the current rate is continued South Penn will place in stock approximately 96,000 barrels of crude this month.

This would represent about one eighth of the total available tankage. Since South Penn is but one of many companies adding to their stocks, it was pointed out that the available empty tankage at the end of April will be greatly reduced. In fact, it was said, it may reach a "critical" stage.

Arthur Briggs, of the Warren Conservatory of Music, played two lovely violin solos, "When Day Is Done" and "Indian Love Call". Richard Smith pleased the audience with his vocal numbers: "Galway Bay", "I'll Take You Home Again, Kathleen", "The Whiffenpoof Song". Both soloists were accompanied by Walter Whaley.

To conclude the evening, refreshments were served by Miss Anderson's room, with the following mothers on the committee: Mrs. Carl Berglund, Mrs. Francis Kottmair, Mrs. Paul Simonsen and Mrs. Nicholas Merenick.

Ladies' Night Of County Shriners Successful Event

The annual Ladies' Night of the Warren County Shrine Club, held at the Woman's Club Wednesday evening, proved to be everything that was promised by the committee, and the nobles and their ladies are congratulating the committee on the success of another of these always enjoyable affairs.

The main feature of the evening was a novelty entertainment by Rollin Tuttle, of Rochester, N. Y., with his original program of whistling, piano playing, story telling and climaxed by an exhibition of dancing dolls that literally brought down the house. As was promised—Tuttle was great.

Over two hours of dancing was enjoyed to the delightful music of our own Orrie Beebe's orchestra, and while the guests partook of a splendid midnight snack, Orrie rendered a number of selections on his now famous Hammond organ.

Noble A. R. Peterson, the club's genial master of ceremonies, created a sensation by having procured parcel post packages from high ranking Shrines all over the states, which were auctioned off by Noble Don Smith. The proceeds, nearly $100, are to be added to the Warren County Shrine Club's Crippled Children's Fund.

Out of town guests included Potentate C. W. First of the Erie Sam Zem Temple, and the members of his Divan; also Shriners from Meadville, Oil City, Knox, Johnsonburg, Bradford, Pittsburgh and Altoona.

Scout Financial Drive Gets Good Start In Youngsville

The Boy Scout financial campaign in Youngsville got off to an excellent start last night, with 38 men attending the kick-off dinner at the Evangelical United Brethren church.

The team captains and Chairman G. M. Sanford were much enthused about the results of the solicitation last night but the goal they have set for themselves has not been reached. The men will finish their calls today and make their final report to their captain tonight.

The total reported last night was $372.50. Despite the several meetings that took people from their homes in Youngsville the workers on the campaign were able to do an excellent job. G. R.

Ball led the individual workers for the highest amount reported last night. Jim Hamilton's team made the highest team report with the East side group reporting $131.85 to lead the West group with $118.65.

George Walters and his advanced gifts committee reported and turned in $122. The advanced gifts committee called on stores that would have been closed last night when the regular drive took place. The advanced gifts group consisted of George Walters, chairman, Don Abraham, Kenneth L. Boland and George Anderson.

The kick-off dinner got underway promptly at 6 o'clock with a tureen dinner. F. M. Caughey of the executive committee of the drive gave a very interesting talk to the men on the value of Scouting in the community. Scout Executive Frank Parker explained the mechanics of the campaign and Chairman Sanford distributed the campaign cards and workers kits. The lieutenants and Chairman Sanford remained at the campaign headquarters until every man returned to make his report of the night's work.

The kick-off meeting of the Boy Scout campaign in Pittsfield was held last night at the home of Henry Danielson. F. W. Caughey and Frank Parker assisted Chairman Henry Danielson with the meeting. Those who are working on the campaign in that community are Danielson, Seward Jordan, Leason Hannold, O. G. Loomis, Harold Shipley, and Norman Taylor in Garland.

The Country Boy Scout office also received a call from Harry Johnson, chairman of the financial campaign in Irvine. To the effect that his workers had collected a total of $130 thus far.

Easy Dugan's Band included in its group an ambitious overture, a lively march and the popular "Eddy Bear" Picnic, with brasses and percussion units taking turns in making things lively. Of particular interest in connection with this group was the faultless work of Ronnie Wood on the euphonium, this young player demonstrating a seriousness and accuracy seldom found in one of his years.

During the final group, Mr. Summers represented the other directors in a sincere expression of appreciation of the support and enthusiasm shown by the large audience.

Many who were unable to attend the function were granted opportunity to enjoy the program through the FM broadcast arranged by Station WNAE.

Suspect Held in Kidnaping of Officers

charged with bank robberies that netted more than $40,000. Memphis FBI Agent D. S. Hostetter said two of the four arrested in yesterday's simultaneous raids at Memphis and on a farmhouse have given oral confessions implicating the others.

The robberies, said Hostetter, involved two Baltimore banks and a Follansbee, W. Va., bank. Hostetter reconstructing yesterday's raids and the events leading up to them, said:

FBI and state police got a tip that the alleged bank robbers were hiding out at a farmhouse in Hickman county. Road blocks were thrown up and some 40 officers in 15 patrol cars converged on the place.

They found it had been vacated but traced the trio to a nearby farmhouse some 12 miles away. There they found them target-shooting with a pistol in the yard. They were captured after police fired only one shot. They were identified as Carl Close, 31, Joseph William Moran, 24, and Andy Fay Lynn, 22.

At the first farmhouse officers found an automatic machinegun with 50 rounds of .45 calibre ammunition and two clips. The gun was hidden in an expensive 1949 automobile.

The woman—a shapely brunette—told officers she and the two men had been planning to leave for California.

Some $600 was found in Close's wallet. The woman had approximately $80 in her possession.

Almost at the same moment officers closed in on the farmhouse, agents in Memphis quietly arrested James Edward Burke, 23, a drugstore thief. He was unarmed and had $385 on his person.

Interesting Compensation Case Heard

Medical and psychiatric testimony occupied the entire afternoon yesterday in a hearing held before Compensation Referee Jesse Smith in the Court House concerning the case of Victor Anderson, who committed suicide following an accident suffered by him while employed at Sherwood Refining Company.

Testifying yesterday afternoon were two former members of the Warren State Hospital staff, Dr. Earl Biddle and Dr. Richard Parks. Dr. Biddle is now assistant superintendent of Wernersville State Hospital and Dr. Parks is engaged in private practice at McKeesport.

Both doctors testified that, in their opinion, Mr. Anderson was insane at the time he committed suicide and that his insanity came as the result of his being blown from the top of a tank at the Sherwood Refining Company.

Dr. T. K. Larson of Warren, was called and testified as to the nature and extent of Mr. Anderson's injuries and symptoms he had observed.

The case was then continued until the defense expert testimony can be offered, probably in about a month.

Representing Mrs. Anderson were Attorney William Glassman, of Warren, and Sam Wagner, Pittsburgh attorney. The Sherwood Refining Company was represented by Daniel Newman, Pittsburgh attorney.

Nationwide Evangelistic Drive Coming

New York—(AP)—The biggest evangelistic campaign ever undertaken by the Protestant churches of America will begin next October.

Plans for the campaign, to be known as the Nationwide Christian Crusade, were announced today. Sponsors are the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America and 15 non-member denominations with a total of $5,000,000 members.

The plans, two years in the making, envisage participation of more than 150,000 local churches and more than 50 colleges. The crusade will continue for 15 months through 1950.

A Federal Council spokesman, Dr. Edwin T. Dahlberg, pastor of the First Baptist church, Syracuse,

N. Y., said this is one of the basic ideas behind the campaign: "We will not have a better America until we have better Americans."

Dahlberg, a former president of the Northern Baptist Convention, declared: "Only a world movement towards Christ can offer any lasting hope for mankind, individually and socially."

"Our own country, thrust into a position of world leadership, must experience a new sense of justice and righteousness within our own borders lest she fail to provide the world with moral and spiritual leadership."

The crusade, he said, grows out of the need of the church itself as well as America's need, adding:

"The churches must evangelize or perish. Existence of the churches in America now is no guarantee that they will be here a century from now. If the churches are to become strong spiritually and numerically they must be about their primary business of evangelism."

'My Time Is Your Time'—Or Is It?

Emmett C. Clockworthy awakens Sunday morning, April 24, in a cold sweat—Daylight Saving Time has reared its ugly head. He thinks he set the clocks an hour ahead last night—or was it back? He has to catch a train this morning at 8:32. Or is it 8:32? Maybe 10:32. All very terrifying to Mister C. You can avoid his trepidation by moving the hands of your clocks one hour AHEAD before retiring Saturday night, April 23. Or if you want to do things up right, stay awake until 2 a. m. Sunday, when DST officially starts, and advance the clocks to 3 a. m. at that time.

Pennsy Safety Meeting Here Well Attended

Interest in Safety-First again manifested itself last night when the Warren district of the Renovo Division of the Pennsylvania Railroad held the banner meeting of all time at the Maroon Club. There were 150 railroaders present.

E. P. Adams, superintendent from Erie gave a very interesting talk on the record on his division, and stated that Warren was a spot which had a very good record against reportable accidents. He said: "We should keep improving, tighten our belts a few notches more, and this safety job will soon be licked." Mr. Adams read an interesting Safety-First prize letter written by a section foreman on the Wilkes-Barre division.

The meeting and entertainment was under the direction of the Maintenance department, headed by Malcolm Young, division engineer from Erie, who also made a few timely remarks. T. E. Van Schoik, supervisor of Kane, was chairman of arrangements. Ray Corcoran of Buffalo, was master of ceremonies.

Bob Hart of Warren, well known magician, uncorked a thirty minute performance from tricks and mysteries. He had the crowd roaring at times with his comedy. Al Ongle, trackman of Irvinston, proved that handling a pick does not deter one from having nimble fingers for a piano key board. Through the courtesy of the Santa Fe, two reels of Safety methods of that road, and a summer trip through the Yosemite Park were shown. L. Sojka, of Buffalo, was projection operator.

A delicious steak dinner was served by the Lewis Catering Service. Door prizes were won by Joe O'Connor, signal maintainer of Irvine, a pair of safety shoes; W. P. Stewart, section foreman Youngville, also a pair of shoes; Oscar Johnson, ticket clerk Warren, leather time table cover; R. E. Devore, engineer Warren, a pen.

Noticed at the officials table were F. R. Kirkpatrick, road foreman of engines, and P. E. Mansfield, supervising agent from Erie, also Perry Adams, engineer running out of Warren, who is father of the Division's superintendent.

MEASLES "CYCLE"

Measles have hit a "three-year cycle" in Erie and are now in "near epidemic" stages. So says City Health Director Felix S. Schuber, who reported 1,661 cases since January first. Last year in the same period there were 39 cases.

To Observe Anniversary Of the 'A. A.'

Pittsburgh—Hundreds of A.A.'s from Western Pennsylvania will meet at Carnegie Lecture Hall on the night of April 29, 8:30, to celebrate the eighth anniversary of the founding of Alcoholics Anonymous in Pittsburgh.

This year's anniversary meeting will be a far cry from the original group of five alcoholics who met in the Hotel Henry on the night of Dec. 7, 1940, when AA was born in Pittsburgh. From that tiny group has grown more than thirty branch groups in the immediate Pittsburgh district and an even greater number of allied groups throughout Western Pennsylvania.

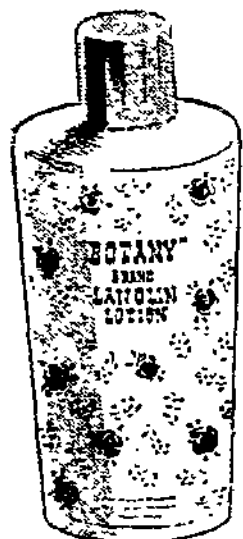

As a result of AA in Pittsburgh scores of shattered homes have been restored. AA has entered many others in time to prevent family break-ups, and hundreds of men and women given up by friends, families, and employers as hopeless drunks have been restored to sober and useful places in society.

Speaking at the April 29 meeting will be a member of AA, the city editor of one of America's greatest dailies. Since membership in AA carries with it the admission of former drunkenness, names of members are not used in print or radio. AA gives them the blanket of anonymity to avoid possible embarrassment to family, friends, and business associates.

AA treats alcoholism as an illness which American medicine now ranks as the fourth most serious in the nation. Contrary to the belief in some quarters, AA is not interested in temperance or prohibition and has no quarrel with makers, sellers, or users of alcoholic beverages. Its one purpose is offering a way out to the problem drinker. AA makes no charges for its services. Its members pay no dues and it neither solicits nor accepts contributions from any source. Its phone number is usually the first listing in any directory.

Radio Forum Over WNAE Sunday P. M.

Residents of Warren and vicinity are reminded to listen to the "Let's Look at Warren Radio Forum" Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock over WNAE. The current topic will be the Hospital Building program and there will be many interesting insights given to the problem.

The panel consisting of Dr. William Cashman, Alexander Flick, Raymond Hall, and Frank Cruikshank are all well qualified to present their views and ideas on the subject, and they will be under the able guidance of Francis Buchanan who will act as moderator.

It is hoped that the people of Warren will take an active part in these discussions, and they may do so by phoning in any question that they might have pertaining to the subject, either before or during the program. The Jaycees Auxiliary will act as telephone operators to handle the calls.

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

SUCCESS DEPENDS ON CORRECT PLAY

By WILLIAM E. McKENNEY America's Card Authority

Written for NEA Service I was chatting with Elliott Lawrence, the famous young band leader who was voted the most popular band by colleges last year. He told me that he has played at 200 different colleges for their proms and social functions. I asked him if he ever got tired of playing the rumba and jump music, and his answer was, "College students don't go for that. They like the old-time melodies and smooth music." As a matter of fact, he calls his music "Heart-to-Heart Music."

This brings to my mind the enthusiasm with which many college students are playing bridge. They have their own national tournament each year now, and I would bet that not many of them would slip up on the problem presented in today's hand.
